► Missouri entered the game averaging 53.4 points and 568.9 yards of total offense per game, but OSU's defense slowed the high-powered Tigers and the Cowboys' balanced offense made MU pay for exaggerating its defensive strategy to stop receiver Dez Bryant.

Sept. 24, 2011 at No. 8 Texas A&M W, 30-29

► Texas A&M held a 20-3 lead at half, but a furious rally from OSU fueled by tempo on offense and turnovers forced on defense paralyzed the Aggies in the second half. The Cowboys scored 27 unanswered points to start the second half.

Jan. 2, 2012 vs. No. 4 Stanford W, 41-38 (OT)

► Stanford dominated on the ground and dominated time of possession in the 2012 Fiesta Bowl, but it didn't matter, as six of OSU's seven scoring drives took less than two minutes off the clock.

Nov. 23, 2013 No. 3 Baylor W, 49-17

► Baylor entered the game averaging 61.2 points and 684.8 yards of offense per game, but the Cowboys buried the Bears by racing out to a 35-3 advantage through three quarters. OSU held Baylor 44 points and 231 yards below its season averages and the red zone stats were telling - Baylor was 1-for-4 with only a field goal, while OSU was 4-for-4, will all four scores being touchdowns.

Nov. 7, 2015 No. 5 TCU W, 49-29

► TCU entered the game ranked second in the nation in both scoring offense (48.9 ppg) and total offense (616.3 ypg), but the Cowboys intercepted Heisman hopeful Trevone Boykin four times and also recorded a goal line stand, plus forced a second turnover on downs in the red zone to cement their victory. OSU won the battle up front, sacking Boykin three times. Entering the game, Boykin had been sacked only five times in his previous eight games.

GAME NOTES

Oct. 29, 2016 vs. No. 10 West Virginia W, 37-20

► West Virginia entered the game undefeated and ranked in the top 15 nationally in both total offense and scoring defense, but it was unranked Oklahoma State who was the aggressor. The Cowboys took a 20-10 lead at halftime and extended their advantage to 27-10 at the end of the third quarter before the Mountaineers were able to muster any kind of scoring production in the fourth quarter. By then, it was too late.

HIGH STAKES BEDLAM

For the second straight year, Bedlam is a winner-take-all duel for the Big 12 championship and both teams carry a top-10 national ranking into the game. Saturday's game marks the sixth time in the last nine years that Bedlam has had a direct impact on who won the Big 12. A look:

- In 2008, winning Bedlam sent Oklahoma to the Big 12 championship game.
- In 2010, losing Bedlam cost Oklahoma State an appearance in the Big 12 championship game.
- In 2011, the Cowboys clinched an outright Big 12 championship by winning Bedlam. Losing Bedlam cost the Sooners a share of the Big 12 title that year.
- OSU had a chance to clinch the Big 12 outright in 2013, but the Sooners' surprising Bedlam win ended those hopes and set the stage for Baylor to clinch the league title later that night.
- In 2015, Oklahoma clinched the Big 12 title with a win. Oklahoma State would have been the Big 12 champion had it won Bedlam.
- In 2016, the Bedlam winner is the outright Big 12 champion.

BEDLAM BROTHERS ARE BIG 12'S BEST

Oklahoma State and Oklahoma are the Big 12's two best teams this decade. A look at every Big 12 team's record in conference games since 2010 shows that the road to the Big 12 title runs through Bedlam:

OKLAHOMA STATE FROM A DISTANCE

Oklahoma State enters Saturday's game riding a seven-game Big 12 win streak and leads the Big 12 in kicks blocked, kickoff return defense, punt return defense, fewest passes had intercepted and turnovers gained. Some of the basics on OSU:

Offense

- ▶ In quarterback Mason Rudolph and receiver James Washington, Oklahoma State has one of the most dangerous pass-combinations in the nation. True freshman running back Justice Hill has emerged as perhaps the best and most impactful newcomer in the Big 12 this season. The offensive line is massively improved from the past two seasons and a host of skill position players have the hot hand entering Bedlam, including running back Chris Carson and receiver Chris Lacy.
- ▶ Oklahoma State is one of only three Power Five Conference teams in the nation who have had a game of at least 500 yards passing (540 vs. Pittsburgh) and a game of 300 yards rushing (334 at TCU) this season. The only other Power Five teams who can make that claim are Oklahoma and California.

Defense

- ▶ Forcing turnovers has been at the center of OSU's success. Through 11 games, the Cowboys have forced 23 turnovers (2.1 per game) and have taken two of those back for defensive touchdowns. 15 different OSU players have been directly involved in a turnover, either by intercepting a pass or by recovering a fumble this season.
- ▶ Of the Cowboys' 28 sacks this season, 23 have come from defensive linemen.

Special Teams

- ▶ Special teams have been a strong point for the Cowboys this year. The Pokes have blocked six kicks, have a net punting average of 40.5 yards, are averaging 10.9 yards per punt return and are limiting opponents to 18.3 yards per kickoff return. OSU is one of only five teams in the country who rank in the top 20 nationally in both punt return defense and kickoff return defense, joining Auburn, Virginia Tech, Purdue and Tulane.
- ▶ Punter Zach Sinor is performing at a very high level. On the year, he leads all FBS punters with 63 percent of his punts being downed inside the opponents' 20-yard line. He is the central reason why Oklahoma State ranks second in the nation by limiting opponents to 1.40 yards per punt return and also leads the nation in opponents' average starting field position.

Looking beyond just this season, turnovers and non-offensive touchdowns rank among Oklahoma State's signature traits this decade. In fact, the Cowboys rank third in the nation with 39 non-offensive touchdowns since 2010 and are third in America with 194 turnovers forced since 2010. Only Houston and Oregon have forced more during that time span.

An explosive aerial attack has also been at the core of Oklahoma State's identity this decade, with the Cowboys ranking in the top 10 nationally in passing yards per game four times since 2010, and that does not count what's happening this year, as the Pokes enter this week's game vs. Oklahoma ranked sixth nationally in passing yards per game.

On special teams, the Cowboys have a recent tradition of blocking kicks, as OSU has blocked 19 kicks since the start of the 2013 season to tie Temple for the FBS lead during that time span. The Cowboys are tied for third in the nation with six blocked kicks this season.

OKLAHOMA FROM A DISTANCE

Winners of eight straight following a 1-2 start to the season, Oklahoma has one of the nation's most prolific and efficient offenses, thanks largely to the play of quarterback Baker Mayfield, receiver Dede Westbrook and running backs Joe Mixon and Samaje Perine. The Sooners average 45.3 points and 550.8 yards of total offense per game and a hidden key to their success is their 52.1 percent conversion rate on third downs.

Defensively, OU has allowed 30.5 points and 443.1 yards of total offense per game, with Sooner opponents averaging 287.5 passing yards per contest and converting on 44.6 percent of third-down attempts. OU has been at its best defensively in the red zone. In fact, the last 10 trips for opponents into the red zone have yielded only five scores - four touchdowns and one field goal. Jordan Evans, Ogbornia Okoronkwo and Steven Parker have been among OU's top defensive playmakers.

In Mixon and Westbrook, the Sooners have two very dangerous return men. Austin Seibert handles all of the kicking duties and has made six of his last field goal attempts. His 40 punts this year have yielded only 65 return yards for opponents.

AN OKLAHOMA STATE WIN WOULD...

- ▶ Give the Cowboys their second Big 12 title under coach Mike Gundy. 2011 was the first.
- ▶ Mark the Cowboys' third win over a ranked opponent this season, and their first on the road.
- ▶ Mark the seventh time that the Cowboys have beaten a team ranked in the top 10 of the Associated Press poll since 2008.
- ▶ Mark the 20th time that the Cowboys have beaten an opponent ranked in the top 25 of the Associated Press poll since Mike Gundy took over as head coach in 2005.

WIN INDICATORS

There are many things that go into whether a team wins a game, but a long-term look at the trends during Mike Gundy's tenure at Oklahoma State shows that winning the turnover battle and winning the run game are two of the easiest ways to predict an OSU victory.

Since 2005, when the Cowboys win the turnover battle, they are 60-7 (89.6 pct.) They are 27-1 (96.4 pct.) in games when they commit zero turnovers. OSU is 75-20 under Gundy when outrushing the opponent (78.9 pct.) and is 32-5 when holding the opponent under 100 yards on the ground (86.5 pct.).

History also shows that OSU is tough to beat when it takes a lead into halftime, as the Cowboys are 80-7 when leading at intermission under Gundy (92.0 pct.).

WEEK 14 TALKING POINTS - OFFENSE

► The Oklahoma State offense runs through quarterback Mason Rudolph. When he plays well, the Cowboys usually win the game, and that has been the case for the majority of the season. Rudolph has surpassed 350 yards passing in five games this year, including two of the past three games and a school-record of 540 yards in OSU's win over Pitt. Additionally, Rudolph is the only player in the country this season who has surpassed 3,500 passing yards while throwing less than five interceptions. He ranks fifth nationally with 326.5 passing yards per game.

► Oklahoma State's group of receivers is one of the most impressive in the country. Led by James Washington, who leads the team and ranks 11th nationally with 105.4 receiving yards per game, four different Cowboys have eclipsed 100 yards receiving in a game this season. Washington has done so five times this year, including four times in the last six games, while Jalen McCleskey has three 100-yard games, Chris Lacy has two in each of the past two games and Jhajuan Seales added another. Additionally, 17 different players have caught a pass for OSU this year.

► Chris Lacy's name is the latest to be added to Oklahoma State list of threats at wide receiver. After serving a limited role in his first two seasons, Lacy has made a name for himself this year. He's caught at least one pass in every game he's played this season and has set career highs in single game receiving yards in each of his last two games, totaling 100 in OSU's win over Texas Tech and 109 in OSU's win over TCU. Additionally, Lacy caught two big touchdown passes against West Virginia and the Cowboys' first touchdown against TCU.

► The Cowboys' run game has earned a name for itself. OSU has averaged 6.64 yards per carry (724 yards on 109 carries) in its last three games, which ranks third nationally among Power Five schools during the month of November. It started when OSU put up more yards on Kansas State than any other team has this year with 180 on an average of 6.9 yards per carry. After that, the Cowboys averaged 5.5 yards per carry with 210 rushing yards in their win over Texas Tech and followed it up with a season-high 334 yards in OSU's win at TCU (7.4 yards per carry).

► Running backs Justice Hill and Chris Carson have led the charge in the run game. Carson has rushed for 288 yards on 34 carries in the last three games (8.5 yards per carry) while Hill has rushed for 325 yards on 43 carries during that stretch (7.6 yards per carry). They combined for 300 yards in OSU's last game against TCU as Carson had a career-best 146 yards and Hill added 154. Hill holds the OSU school record for rushing yards in a season by a true freshman (943) and needs less than 20 yards to set the record for season rushing yards by any OSU freshman. Hill's effort against TCU marked his fifth 100-yard game this season. No other freshman in OSU history has more than three.

RUDOLPH ESTABLISHED AS ONE OF THE NATION'S BEST

Since having his redshirt pulled in week 11 of the 2014 season, Mason Rudolph has quarterbacked Oklahoma State to a 21-5 record as a starter and has led the Cowboys to eight victories in games in which they trailed during the second half.

Rudolph has surpassed 350 yards passing in five games this season and 300 yards passing in a half on two occasions this year. For perspective, that feat had only been accomplished twice in Oklahoma State history prior to this season.

Against Pitt, he finished with a school-record 540 passing yards that also represented the fifth-highest single-game figure in the nation this season. His 20.77 yards per completion in the game also set a single-game school record (min. 20 completions). Rudolph set the tone by completing a 91-yard touchdown pass to James Washington on the first play of the game, which marked the second-longest pass completion in school history.

Rudolph's performance this year has put him in the top 15 of several NCAA rankings, including No. 5 in passing yards per game (326.5), No. 8 in passing yards (3,591), No. 8 in yards per attempt (9.18), No. 12 in total offense per game (328.8), No. 12 in passing efficiency (160.4), No. 13 in comp. per game (22.82) and No. 14 in yards per comp. (14.31).

THROWING DARTS

One of the most impressive parts of Rudolph's season has been his ability to avoid interceptions. Despite attempting 391 passes this year, he has only been picked off four times. He's one of two quarterbacks in the country who has attempted more than 320 passes with less than five interceptions. Of the eight quarterbacks nationally who have surpassed 3,500 passing yards, Rudolph is the only one with less than five interceptions.

Rudolph's interception numbers are made even more impressive by the fact that a large percentage of his passes are downfield, not short and easy throws. Rudolph ranks third nationally in completions of at least 30 yards. More than half of his completions have gone for at least 10 yards and more than 12 percent have gained at least 30 yards. A look at the national leaders in 30-yard completions:

GAME NOTES

HITTING THEIR STRIDE IN NOVEMBER

The Oklahoma State run game has improved this season, but it might be an understatement to say that Cowboys have found their groove. During the month of November, the Cowboys totaled 724 yards on 109 carries over three games for an average of 6.64 yards per carry. That figure not only led the Big 12 in November, but also ranked 10th nationally.

During that stretch, OSU rose 29 places in the NCAA rankings for rushing offense on the season. Here's a look at the most yards per carry among Power Five teams during the month of November:

LEARN THE NAME NOW - JUSTICE HILL

With names like Barry Sanders, Thurman Thomas, Terry Miller, Kendall Hunter and several more, the running back history at Oklahoma State rivals any other program in the nation, and Cowboy rushing records are not easy to come by - though Justice Hill is giving it a go.

Hill broke the OSU season record for most rushing yards by a true freshman in OSU's win at TCU. He finished with 154 yards to bring his season total to 943 and break the 843-yard mark that Thurman Thomas set in 1984. Hill's season total ranks second all-time at OSU for any freshman, as redshirt freshman Mike Hamilton ran for 961 yards in 2005.

Additionally, Hill is the only freshman in Oklahoma State history to rush for 100 yards in five games. No other Cowboy freshman did it more than three times. Even more impressive, all five of his 100-yard games have come against Big 12 opponents. His five 100-yard rushing games are also tied for the second-most among all Big 12 players this year.

With a career-high 162 rushing yards in OSU's win over Kansas, he tallied the second-highest rushing total ever for an Oklahoma State true freshman, trailing only Thomas's 206 rushing yards against Kansas State in 1984. His average of 106.8 rushing yards per game (on 5.8 yards per carry) in Big 12 play ranks third in the league and he's the only freshman who ranks in the top 10 rushers of the Big 12.

Hill's 85.73 rushing yards per game rank him third among all FBS freshmen. A look:

OFFENSIVE BENCHMARKS

Among the statistical categories that the OSU coaches prioritize when grading their own offense are the following: rushing yards per carry, explosive plays (20 yards or longer), minimizing turnovers and avoiding negative yardage plays. JAMES WASHINGTON AMONG THE BEST IN THE NATION

Coming from the tiny town of Stamford, Texas (population 3,124), receiver James Washington has made more than his share of big-time plays since arriving in Stillwater.

The junior had a historic performance with nine catches for 296 yards and two touchdowns to help lead the Cowboys to victory over previously-unbeaten Pittsburgh in week three. Washington's yardage marked the second-most in a single game for any player in the nation this season, the second-highest single-game mark in school history and the fourth-most in Big 12 history. His 32.9 yards per reception in that game set a single-game school record (min. seven catches), and it marked the third time in his career that he has averaged more than 32 yards per catch in a game. No other Cowboy has accomplished that feat more than once. He ranks 11th nationally in receiving yards per game (105.4), 15th in yards per reception (19.32) and he has caught a pass in 30 straight games.

Washington has surpassed 100 yards receiving in 11 games during his career, including five times this season and four times in his last six games. He's one of just three players in the country who has at least 60 catches with an average greater than 19 yards per catch. He's also the only player in the country with three catches of at least 80 yards this season.

THROW IT TO JAMES!

Not only has James Washington been making long receiving plays, but he has been turning them into touchdowns. Here's a look at the country's active career leaders in yards per touchdown reception (min. 10 touchdowns):

WEEK 14 TALKING POINTS - DEFENSE

- ▶ The Cowboys' win over TCU in their last game may have been their most dominant defensive performance of the season. The OSU defense held TCU to its lowest scoring output of the season while handing the Frogs their most lopsided home loss of the Gary Patterson era. OSU also picked off two passes, held TCU to 6-of-16 on third down and 1-of-4 on fourth down and pitched a shutout outside of a 6-yard touchdown drive following an OSU turnover. The Cowboys also stopped the Frogs twice after they had driven inside the OSU five yard line and held them to one score in three red zone opportunities.
- ▶ A big part of OSU's defensive success is due to winning the field position battle. The Cowboys lead the nation in opponent's starting field position, as their average drive has started at their own 24.1 yard line. That's been a significant factor in allowing the Cowboys to rank third in the league in scoring defense.
- ▶ Forcing turnovers has long been a focal point of defensive coordinator Glenn Spencer's scheme. The Cowboys have sealed multiple games with late turnovers and are now ranked No. 20 in the country and No. 1 in the Big 12 with 23 turnovers gained on the season. They are also No. 12 nationally and No. 2 in the Big 12 in turnover margin at +0.82. The Cowboys have forced at least one turnover in every game this year, including 13 in the last six games. In OSU's win over No. 10 West Virginia, the Cowboys outscored WVU, 17-0, in points off turnovers and won the game by 17 points.
- ▶ In eight of OSU's nine wins, the Cowboy defense has held its opponent to less than 50 percent on third down conversions, including twice when they were held to less than 25 percent. The Cowboys are holding opponents to a 38.6 conversion rate on the year to rank fourth in the Big 12, and success in that area has had a strong correlation with OSU's win-loss record.
- ▶ Oklahoma State leads the nation with six blocked kicks this season, three of which came as part of the Cowboys' win over Texas. Defensive tackle Vincent Taylor leads the country individually with four blocks, which matches the OSU record that was set in 1971. The latest block came at TCU as Taylor swatted TCU's only PAT goal attempt to swing the momentum back in OSU's favor in the Cowboys' 31-6 win.
- ▶ After 11 games, the Cowboys lead the Big 12 in fourth-quarter scoring defense, kickoff coverage (18.27) and punt return defense (1.4) in addition to turnovers gained and blocked kicks. They rank in the top three in scoring defense (27.2), interceptions (13), sacks per game (2.55), opponent fourth down percentage (39.1), turnover margin (+0.82), fumbles recovered (10), defensive touchdowns (2) and red zone defense (77.5 percent).

GAME NOTES

STERNS AMONG NATION'S BEST

Senior free safety Jordan Sterns is the leader of the Cowboy defense. Sterns' 301 career tackles are the most among active players in the Big 12 and rank him fourth among all defensive backs from Power Five conferences. A look:

DEFENSIVE BENCHMARKS

Oklahoma State's defensive coaches look at multiple factors when judging their own defense, but high on the priority list are the following: turnovers forced, points per possession, yards per possession, third down defense and big plays allowed. WINNING THE FIELD POSITION BATTLE

Oklahoma State has been performing at an elite level when it comes to winning the field position battle. On average this season, Cowboy opponents have started 75.9 yards from the end zone (their own 24.1-yard line), which ranks as the most in the nation. Additionally, the Cowboy offense has started on average at its own 30.9-yard line. That 6.8-yard difference ranks No. 6 nationally in net field position.

Here's a look at the national leaders in opponent starting field position:

2.	Utah	75.6
3.	San Diego State	74.8
4.	BYU	74.8
5.	Ohio State	74.5

FINISH STRONG

The Cowboys have held opponents scoreless in the fourth quarter in six games this season. That ability to close out games has made the difference in several OSU victories this year. Here's a look at the Big 12 rankings when it comes to fourth quarter scoring defense:

Rk	Team	Opp. 4Q Pts.

BALANCE ON BOTH SIDES OF THE BALL

Oklahoma State is the only team in the Big 12 who ranks among the top three in the league in both scoring offense and scoring defense. Its 40.4 points scored per game average and its 27.2 points allowed per game average both rank third in the conference.

1945 NATIONAL CHAMPS

WACO, Texas – Oklahoma State has been retroactively named as football national champions of 1945 by the American Football Coaches Association, it was announced on Oct. 19.

At the request of multiple schools, the AFCA established a panel of national championship coaches to retroactively select Coaches' Trophy winners from 1922 (when the AFCA was founded) up to 1949 (the year before the Coaches' Poll was first published). That panel of coaches took information submitted by schools who felt they were worthy of consideration and used that data in the research and selection process.

"After gathering all the pertinent information and doing our due diligence, it is the pleasure of our panel of coaches to officially recognize Oklahoma State's 1945 championship season with the AFCA Coaches' Trophy," said AFCA executive director Todd Berry.

The Oklahoma State squad of 1945 (then-referred to as Oklahoma A&M) had an average margin of victory of 23.2 points and still hold numerous school records, including fewest points allowed, lowest average points allowed, fewest first downs allowed, fewest rushing yards allowed and fewest yards allowed per game. The 1945 squad also ranks in the top 10 in several more offensive and defensive categories, all of which is remarkable considering that season was played 70 years ago.

Coached by Jim Lookabaugh, the 1945 Oklahoma A&M roster included seven veterans of World War II. Bob Fenimore was a consensus All-American who led the nation in both rushing and total offense and also ranked in the top 15 nationally in rushing yards, passing yards, scoring and punting. Teammate Neill Armstrong also earned All-America status that year by the Associated Press. In addition to Fenimore and Armstrong, J.C. Colhouer earned All-Missouri Valley Conference recognition.

The Aggies capped their championship season with a resounding 33-13 win over St. Mary's in the Sugar Bowl.

"We may have been the best team in the country that year," Armstrong said in December of 2015. "We had a couple of All-Americans and a group of veterans who kept us in check. In practice, we scrimmaged every day. As hard as those scrimmages were, it's a wonder that we had anything left for the games, but those scrimmages toughened us and made us better. We had a lot of older guys who had fought in the war and understood that you don't win anything unless you do it as a team."

By virtue of this announcement from the AFCA, Oklahoma State now becomes the first school to be recognized as national champions by a national organization or body in both football and men's basketball in the same academic year. Coach Henry Iba's hoops squad won the second of its back-to-back NCAA titles that same season.

Including this newly-awarded title from the AFCA, Oklahoma State's athletic department now boasts team national championships in seven different sports – wrestling (34 national titles), men's golf (10 national titles), men's cross country (four national titles), men's basketball (two national titles), football, baseball and equestrian (one national title apiece). OSU's 56 team national championships rank as the fourth-most among all Division I schools, trailing only UCLA, USC and Stanford.

NOTING THE SPECIALISTS

An All-America candidate and semifinalist for the Ray Guy Award presented to America's top punter, Zach Sinor leads all FBS punters with 63 percent of his punts being downed inside the opponent's 20-yard line. Despite punting only 46 times on the season, Sinor's 29 punts downed inside the 20 rank among the best in the nation. Thanks largely to Sinor's ability to target punt with hang time, Oklahoma State ranks fifth nationally by allowing only 21 punt return yards this season. He is the central reason why OSU ranks second in the nation by limiting opponents to 1.4 yards per punt return.

In OSU's win over TCU, Sinor killed all three of his punts inside of TCU's own 20 yard line, and the Frogs' average starting field position after Sinor's punts was their own 6-yard line. Sinor completely neutralized TCU's KaVonte Turpin, one of the nation's best return men. Turpin entered the contest averaging a staggering 28.8 yards per punt return, but thanks to Sinor's precision and hang time, Turpin finished with two returns for minus-eight yards.

A four-year starter, Oklahoma State kicker Ben Grogan has made 21 of his last 25 field goal attempts and 12 of his last 14. Grogan broke Dan Bailey's school record for career points this year, as well as his record for most PATs made and attempted. With seven points against TCU, Grogan's season total for points scored sits at 101. He is first player in OSU history to post four straight seasons with at least 100 points scored, and he's one of only two active players who can make that claim. Grogan is just the second player in Big 12 history with that career accomplishment, as he joins Aaron Jones of Baylor, who did it from 2010-13.
